

Do you know what's inside your plastic?

Find out now in less than 60 seconds!

The d₂Detector, a plastic technology breakthrough:

- d₂w and d₂p detection control
- anti-counterfeiting control
- quality control device

The launch of the hand-held d₂Detector is a world first! Designed for checking the right amount of d₂w or d₂p additives, it can also be used for verifying that products and packaging are authentic and not copies.

If you've ever wondered whether your product or those of your competitors were the real thing, d₂Detector offers a low cost solution. Quality control and brand protection are essential in today's competitive environment. Product authentication is implemented through the d₂w additive which contains a unique tracer system.
